The boy was bored. He wanted to do something that summer day. The sun was shining. "I want to go swimming," the boy thought. He walked to the pool. It was a hot day. As he walked to the pool, the birds were chirping, and the bugs were buzzing. He couldn't wait to jump in the pool! The water was shining and blue. He jumped in. The water was cool. He was happy to be swimming. After his swim, he decided to go home. That was a perfect summer day.
